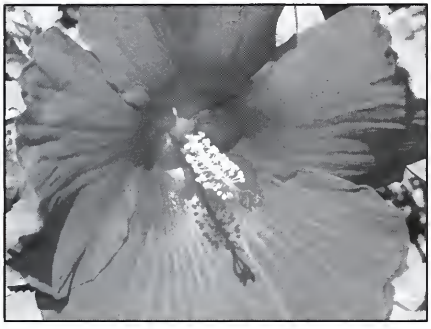
an event : activities at McKendree



an added attribute: two new clubs at mck

In the 2003-04 school year McKendree College gained two new clubs: Bearcat Rotaract Club and A.C.M.E.

The Bearcat Rotaract Club is a Rotary-sponsored service club for men and women ages eighteen to thirty. The program is part of a global effort to bring peace and international understanding to the world. The goals of the Bearcat Rotaract Club are for its members to develop professional and leadership skills, serve the community and promote goodwill, and to gain an understanding of the needs, problems, and opportunities in the community and worldwide. Specifically, the Bearcat Club has raised funds for the Heifer Project, helped with ringing salvation Army bells and the O'Fallon Food Pantry, and collecting tioletries for the Jamaica trip over spring break of McKendree students.

A.C.M.E. stands for Anime, Cartoon, Manga Enthusiasts. It is a club for those with interest in anime, cartoons, comic books, manga, and/or video games. The group is trying to promote Japanese culture and anime on campus along with enjoying it for themselves. The group hosted a showing of the film Spirited Away along with a Spiderman 3-Decomic. The group also planned and acted in other activities on campus, such as planning an anime convention with the anime fan group of SIU-Edwardsville.

Cos-play?

Hello, Kitty
Kristin Weltzin gave a brownbag presentation on A.C.M.E., Japanese anime and manga, as well as her own experiences in Japan. Here she holds a Hello Kitty doll to demonstrate the Japanese obsession with cuteness.

BANG! POW! BatBill Harroff
Librarian William Harroff is the advisor of A.C.M.E. His bio on the A.C.M.E. website tells, "William Harroff joined the Supermen of America in 1959 and has done his best to pursue truth, justice and the American Way ever since."

an authoritative tyranny: student government association

The Student Government Association (SGA) is the officially elected body of student representatives on the McKendree College campus. Officers and class representatives are elected each spring semester. SGA meets on a regularly scheduled basis and is responsible for representing student opinion to the administration. In addition, the governance body appoints students to several campus committees, distributes funds to selected student groups, and generally works for the well being of students within the campus community. SGA works through a series of informal committees to complete its tasks. The President of SGA addresses the Board of Trustees on the occasion of their regular campus meetings. This officer frequently represents the student body at campus functions and special campus events. SGA meetings are open to the entire student body and all students are encouraged to participate in the life of this organization.

an illustrious presentation: dss and fas at mck

Ask and You Shall Receive
A student asks Val Mazzenga a question during the Q&A of his presentation.

The Distinguished Speakers Series (DSS) and the Fine Art Series (FAS) are two of the biggest events on campus. The DSS is organized to bring people on- and off-campus together to listen to the discourse of a well-known speaker. The Fine Art Series has a similar purpose, but, instead of speakers, the Fine Art Series brings musicians to the campus to perform, expanding the experience and joy of those attending.

This year the DSS was presented in either MPCC or Pearson's as the situation and audience size dictated. The presenters this year were all in some way involved in the news media. The three guest speakers included Barbara Ehrenreich, a reporter and author, Val Mazzenga, a photojournalist, and Ron Elving, a NPR news editor.

The FAS brought five different musical groups to campus this year. The performances were given in the upstairs in the chapel. Tickets are sold to the performances, but students, faculty, and staff of McKendree College can enjoy the concerts for free.

The opening group in the series was Ebony and Ivory, a group of two men, Fred Jacobowitz and Andrew Gilpin, perform in a wide variety and mixing of traditional and modern styles. "2" was the next group and they are the Boston-based duo: Peter Bloom on flute and Mary Jane Rupert on piano and harp. The third group to play for the series at McKendree was Chicago a Cappella who are nine vocalists who join together in singing everything from Shakespearean bards to modern music. Then LeClaire Trio played for McKendree. This group is formed by violinist Lenora-Marya Anop, cellist Kangho Lee, and pianist Linda Perry. Their repertoire includes most of the major works of the trio repertory. The last performance in the series was made by the remarkable guitar virtuoso Fareed Haque.

Presenting the Big Picture

theatre at mckendree

Two plays, one in the Fall and one in the Spring, appeared at McKendree this year. Michelle Magnusson directed both plays. Each play was performed admission-free for the students, faculty, and staff of the college.

The McKendree College Theatre Department held the Fall play, Charley's Aunt, from October 23 to 26. The cast included Devin Dippold as Brassett, the all-seeing butler; Sean Henderson as Jack Chesney; Matt Kupferer as Charley Wykeham; and Rebecca Cox and Sara Trask , as Kitty and Amy. Dan Schmid took on the role of Lord Fancourt Babberly who impersonates Charley's aunt. Adam Kee played Sir Francis Chesney, retired army officer. Todd Stinson played Mr. Stephen Spettigue, guardian of Kitty and Amy. The real Donna Lucia d'Alvadorez was played by Michelle Ashley and her ward, Ela Delahay was played by Randa Renshaw. Renee Cralley was stage managing; assisted by Amanda Dotson, who was also in charge of props. Set and lighting design was by Doug Magnussen, McKendree College Technical Director. The sound design was by Dan Schmid, and the assistant lighting designer was Kayla Miller.

The Spring play, The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams, ran from April 1-4. Tom was played by Dan Schmid, the narrator of the play. Tom's sister, Laura, was played by Rebecca Cox, and the oppressive mother, Amanda, was played by Michelle Ashley. Adam Kee played Jim O'Connor. The set and lighting designer was Doug Magnussen. The production was stage managed by Todd Stinson. Kayla Miller was the light board operator, and Renee Cralley was the deck manager.

an outstanding exhibition: homecoming 2003

On Saturday, October 11th, the Homecoming "Masterpiece" at McKendree began with a 5K Amateur Walk/Run for those who wanted to have fun but also keep in shape. Following this, a new event was introduced this year, the Tour de Homecoming – a 14- or 19-mile bike ride through the Lebanon countryside. Later, the Homecoming parade featured marching bands, clowns, floats, candy and more on Alton and St. Louis Streets. There were also food, entertainment, and activities for guests of all ages. At 1:30 p.m. Leemon Field was packed with McKendree students, staff, faculty, alumni, friends and parents anxious for the kick-off between the McKendree Bearcats and Iowa Wesleyan Tigers. In addition to the fun, food, and activities, the Alumni Office and Art Club surprised everyone with an art show displaying outstanding pieces of art created by students, staff, faculty and alumni. And because there is no better way of ending a great day than with a get-together, Saturday evening featured the Homecoming dance for McKendree students at Windows on Washington in downtown St. Louis.

an erudition: brown bags

How's the Weather?
Corey Baron, former TV weatherman and father of two girls adopted from China, hosted the Brown Bag on international adoptions.

Brown Bags are usually a weekly occurrence at McKendree College. Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to come with their lunches to the lecture hall in Piper Academic Center, room 222. Speakers give presentations on a wide variety of topics, ranging from Ecumenical Relations in Religion to Jazz and almost everything else imaginable.

The pictures on this page are from four different presentations. Victoria Dowling, Gretchen Fricke, Dr. Neil Quisenberry, and Corey Baron presented The Changing Face of "American" Families: International Adoption. Sharon Campese and Penny Neale gave a presentation named Breast Cancer: Two Survivors' Stories. Dr. Jennifer Peters' and Dr. Betsy Gordon's Honors class gave their oral traditions performance projects, and Brent Reeves organized the appearance of The Ron Jones Jazz Quartet: Perspectives on Jazz.

All of the Brown Bags are enjoyable and informative, and hopefully this tradition will continue at McKendree for a long time.

renna Fischer, class of '93, and her coworker at Allsup, Inc. talk about their job penings with a McKendree Senior.

On February 11, 2004, Career Services hosted the annual McKendree Career Day. Forty different companies, the maximum Pearsons can hold, showed up for this event. Both students and alumni participated at the job fair. Students and alumni had the opportunity to network with employers offering part-time employment, internships, and full-time professional positions.

Career Services highly publicized the event on campus: posting flyers, sending email, telling all the faculty, and sending out a voice mail message. They were extremely disappointed at the low turn out of students who stopped by the event. Students should take advantage of this great opportunity where the companies come to them so there is no driving to interviews. Companies come to recruit people, and with the sluggish economy will not spend money putting together a booth for McKendree's Career Days if they cannot be assured that it is time and money well spent by seeing many students.

an international student

An international student, no matter what country he or she is from, is part of a continuous learning experience. Besides the college education that everyone has to deal with, an international student has to also learn the language, American culture, and specific rules and laws that apply only to the United States. It is not easy, that's for sure, however I find it a very interesting and unique experience. I never have time to get bored; no matter where I'm at or who I'm with, I always have the chance to learn something new.

As an international student I have students and professors come up to me and ask me questions about my country and my background. So it is nice not only because I get to experience and learn new things but also because I get to share some of my culture and teach people around me how life is in some other part of the world.

mckendree mentoring program

Mentors are college students who serve as tutors, role models, and, most of all friends, to students in the 5th-8th grade at Lebanon Middle School. The program is designed to work with students who are designated at risk academically or socially (low self-esteem, withdrawn, behavior problems, difficult family situations, etc.), especially those students at risk of dropping out of school. Teachers and counselors are asked to nominate potential youth for the program as an exciting partnership between the Lebanon school students and college students in the hope of avoiding any stigmatization of the mentees.

Mentors and youth are matched as closely as possible on the basis of gender, race, interests, and academic needs and skills.

McKendree students who are interested in participating are asked to commit to participating in the program for one academic year. Potential mentors are encouraged to seriously reflect on the responsibility they are undertaking and to consider the significant time and energy mentoring will require.

ast Minute Details
mie, Amber, and Todd discuss something with faculty member Dr. Eisenberry before the brown bag.

Spectrum Alliance is a fairly recent group on campus, started in 2003. It is a social/educational/political organization for gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgendered people, and their allies. The group welcomes everyone, both hetero- and homosexual, and exists as a support group for its members on McKendree's campus. Dr. Alan Alewine is the advisor for the group and Amie Lewis is the group's president.

In the Spring semester of 2004, the Spectrum Alliance members gave a brown bag on what it is like being homosexual, especially on McKendree's campus. The brown bag was well attended with PAC 222 overflowing with people. The group gave their presentation and had a question and answer session afterward.

an assemblage: graduation

"It is essential that our experiences, challenges, successes, and failures serve as a foundation for what lies ahead," Adam Kee, a McKendree College graduating senior, told his classmates at commencement exercises held Saturday, May 8, on the historic front campus of McKendree College in Lebanon, Ill.

President James M. Dennis, celebrating the completion of his first decade as president at McKendree College, presided over the commencement exercises and welcomed the more than 3,000 friends and family members who attended. There are 464 graduates in the Class of 2004, which includes December 2003 and May 2004 graduates.

Donald L. Metzger, chairman of the McKendree College Board of Trustees, conferred an honorary degree, the Doctor of Humane Letters, to Mr. Harvey C. Pitt, a 1950 graduate of McKendree College who is a leading expert and collector of folk art duck decoy masterpieces. Mr. Pitt graduated in 1950 with a bachelor of science degree in biology. In 1952, he earned a master of science degree in biological science from Southern Illinois University Carbondale. He credits McKendree College with giving him the knowledge and skills needed for a successful career in business.

Good Advice

Adam Kee, the commencement speaker, performed outstandingly in both academic and co-curricular activities. He is McKendree College's Student Lincoln Laureate and following his graduation from McKendree will attend one of the most exclusive institutions in the world — the highly prestigious Actors Studio Drama School.

And The Award Goes To...

Dr. Brenda Boudreau, assistant professor of English. This award is given annually to one outstanding faculty member and is based on a personal commitment to the student body, to the ideals of the college, and an awareness of and participation in the community that McKendree College serves.

an enchanting evening : the cantori renaissance christmas concert

On December 5th and 6th, 2003 the McKendree Cantori -- led by Dr. Jennifer Peters -- along with the harpist Robin Haskell and the newly created Lebanon Children's Choir performed during the Annual Cantori Rennaisance Christmas event. The audience was asked to sit at banquet tables where they were served English bread pudding and spiced cider or coffee while regaled by the music. The Cantori sang Elizabethan madrigals and carols, a Latin carol, and a funny modern carol, "Throw the Yule Log on Uncle John." The Cantori also performs various other concerts in the Spring Semester.

Free Coffee

Alpha Omega is a local sorority that began at McKendree in 1954. In the fall of 2003, Alpha Omega welcomed five more members to their sorority, expanding to include 15 active members. Bekki Amann, Tammara Gage, Jamie Graham, Jamie Lauf, and Alicia Weiss were the new members inducted in the fall. The President of the sorority is Heidi Tangman, the Vice President is Rachel Bailey, the Secretary is Bekki Amann, and the treasurer is Amber Henn. The other active members of the sorority are Katie Reed, Lindsay Foster, Jennifer Roehl, Lindsay Bartlebort, Ashley Reynolds, Sarah Hedman, and Deanna Dashley. In March, Alpha Omega participated in Bowl for Kids Sake.

In the fall, they hosted a dance called Pucker Up. In the spring, they co-hosted a dance with Philo. During the summer, they will participate in a cancer walk-a-thon. "The best part of being a member of the Alpha Omega sorority is doing service projects while still being able to have fun with my sisters," said President Heidi Tangman.

Kappa Sigma Tau is a campus sorority open to all women on the McKendree campus. They are a social service sorority and each member is required to participate in at least ten hours of community service per semester. The ideals of the sorority are friendship, service, and equality. Their purpose is to assemble the students of McKendree in the spirit of service to humanity, and to create friendships among all races and creeds. President, Elizabeth Hise says, "I never thought I would join a sorority in college, but my freshman year, many of my friends in my dorm decided to pledge Kappa Sigma Tau. In deciding to pledge with them, I made one of the best decisions of my life! KET is made up of some of the smartest, funniest, most talented women and I consider it a privilege to be one of them."

Kappa Lambda Iota (Clio) is McKendree College's oldest sorority. Originally named the Clionian Literary Society, Kappa Lambda Iota has evolved into a social sorority sponsoring such events as the Clio Rodeo and the Clio 70's dance. Kappa Lambda Iota members are active community volunteers. Members are very involved with raising money for the treatment and cure of breast cancer, holding bake sales with proceeds benefiting the American Breast Cancer Society. The group preforms several other activities on and off campus to promote breast cancer awareness. "As a group of women in today's world, we are facing high rates of breast cancer," comments Courtney Davis, Vice President and Treasurer, "and that is why we like to promote breast cancer awareness on campus."

Members: Kate Beanblosom - President, Courtney Davis - Vice president and treasurer, Amy Weston - Secretary, Sara McKenzie - Pledge Mistress, Shana Jones - Pledge Mistress, Crystal Barrera, Nicole Cargal, Crystal Cole, Tiffany Galaez, Amber Jackson, Andrea Knoll, Amy Lewis, Randa Renshaw

McKendree Sisters United (McKSU) is an organization that focuses on the improvement of women in all areas of life. They center their attention on the importance of culture and celebrate diversity and unity. Every year they attend a conference that focuses on either leadership and/or diversity; for the past two years they have been present at the African American Student Leadership Conference. They also sponsor a Gospel Concert every fall. The Faculty advisor for the sorority is Dr. Jackie Kemp.

Phi Lambda Sigma (Philo), the Philosophian Society, was founded on the McKendree College campus in 1837. It is currently a debating and social fraternity open to all men on the campus. They do community service and host parties for all McKendree students. Toga, Pajama Jam, Boo Bash, Mardi Gras, and the St. Patrick's party are just a few of the events they host. Rick Shilb says, "Philo is good times, and good people."

The members of Sigma Nu fraternity pride themselves in helping other men become more responsible and dependable. They hold several organized social events over the school year. Some of these include cookouts at McKendree football games, a float in the homecoming parade, and three parties a year: Wild Turkey, Snowball, and Armageddon. When asked about Sigma Nu, President Brady Stewart, stated, "Sigma Nu has given me long lasting friendships and an opportunity to expand my principles of love, truth, and honor." Current members are Brady Stewart – Commander (President), Tom Pieper – Lt. Commander (Vice President), Jeff Quirin – Lead Chair and Rush Chair, Brian Welzbacher – Fundraising Chair, Mark Riemann – Finance Chair, John Dawson – Social Chair, Kent Strang – Social Chair, Nathan Raley – Alumni Chair and Recorder, Greg Abrahams – Marshall, Ian McCormick – Risk Reduction Chair, Adam Prest – Rush Chair, Chris Hayer – Philanthropy Chair, Kyle Gerlach - Sentinal

The Black Student Organization (BSO) is an organization open to all students, but of particular interest to students of color. The organization provides both academic and social support to members. BSO members also participate in the planning and implementation of campus programs promoting diversity and cultural awareness. The advisor of the organization is Brent Reeves. This year in January, BSO attended the 10th National African American Student Leadership Conference in Holly Srings, Mississippi. Below are some of the pictures from the event.

an unlimited ministry

Unlimited Ministries, better known as Campus Ministries, is a student led group that conduct such activities as Thursday Chapel at Noon, Lounge Worship on Wednesday Nights, and various bible studies throughout the week. Chaplain Tim Harrison oversees the students along with internet Chris Komorech. Chapel services are led by a praise band consisting of Rachel Bryant, McKenzie Smith, Mike Cheeseman, Bob Clipper, and Chris Komorech. Mike and Chris also lead lounge worship. Other students participate by taking mission trips, such as the one to Mexico this March, organizing movie nights, and taking the challenge of the 30 hour famine. In an interview with Tim Harrison, he mentioned the many ways to get involved with campus ministries and many more activities they are planning for the future. All the pictures for this page were obtained at a planning meeting for the Mexico missionary trip.

an altruistic kindness: cps and mccat

The Center for Public Service (CPS) supports volunteer activities and the development of curricular programs that link community service to academic coursework. McCat, the McKendree College Community Action Team, is the student coordinated volunteer corps support by the Center. The goals of the Center are to contribute to the intellectual development, sense of social responsibility, and active citizenship of students by engaging them in meaningful and academically sound service experiences which enhance the understanding of each discipline, provide an opportunity to practice skill specific to the various disciplines, foster personal growth as an active member of a community of learners, and cultivate the intellect and spirit of persons who care for one another and for the world in which they live and work. The Center for Public Service strives to foster a commitment to service at all levels of campus life.

The Center provides a clearinghouse of information and opportunities for community service and the staff of the Center work with the community to determine how McKendree students, faculty, and staff can help serve their needs. Specific programs supported or run by CPS and McCat include America Reads, Bohannon Nursing Home, CAC Nights, Franklin Neighborhood Association, Highland Animal Shelter, Mentoring, Second Chance Shelter, Soup Kitchen, and Sports Plus. Other activities CPS and McCat sponsored were "The Hunger Banquet" and "Trick o' Treating for Canned Goods" among others.

an argument association: speech and debate team

Under the coaching of Joe Blasdel, the McKendree College Speech and Debate Team has became a nationally ranked team that has won many prestigious awards at intercollegiate tournaments across the country. The team went to the Pi Kappa Delta National Tournament held at Tennessee State University from January 23-25 and won the national championship over more than forty other schools participating. The team won second place and 3 speaker awards at the tournament at Knox College. Another road trip took place from Apr 7-10 when the team traveled to Los Angeles, California to compete in the National Debate Tournament. There the team was ranked 39th o of 351 nationwide NPDA Programs.

Aside from acquiring trophies and awards, the members also gain many other skills such as public speaking, critical reasoning, and organization, as well as communication skills. The debate team consists of President Ryan Diefenbach, Vice President Sara Trask, Secretary- Treasurer John Dawson, and Co-Directors of Public Debate Series Sara Haefner, Mark Wonnacott, and Paul Woodruff. Other members include Michael Derby, David Hamann, Dan Hankley, Elizabeth Hazzard, Michelle Kadonsky, Andrea Knoll, Jason Luitjohan, and Zach Rakers.

an inviting bunch: student ambassadors for mck

The student ambassadors work as a liaison between prospective students and the student body at McKendree. They represent the college to all the potential students they come into contact with. Student ambassadors act as tour guides, prospective student callers, overnight hosts, and college recruiters. The admissions staff spends a great amount of time and energy on attracting students to McK, and student ambassadors are one way they do it. Most of the pictures on this page come from the student ambassador retreat in the Fall at Camp Joy in Carlyle, IL. The ambassadors there completed a "Challenging Outdoor Personal Experiment Course."

an applauding innovation: team bogey

This was Team Bogey's second year at McKendree. The group had a great year. Team Bogey promoted activities and enthusiasm by showing up at athletic games and giving support. Team Bogey held programs for students, some not related to McKendree sports, like the "Wing Thing," and some that are, like the "Tiger Roast." During the Tiger Roast, McKendree's Football Rival Iowa Wesleyan's mascot, a tiger, is burned in effigy. Team Bogey was also involved with the halftime show this year by helping to carry the flag, and the group threw themselves a celebatory anniversery bash.

an ingestion of awareness: the annual cps hunger banquet

The Center for Public Service hosted its annual Hunger Banquet during Hunger and Homelessness Week to promote awareness of the disparity in the world involving the availability and quality of food, medical care, and housing. The guests who came in were separated int three groups, one of which, composed of less than ten people, was served a full course dinner worthy of a fine restaurant. The rest of the guests were divided between those who received rice and beans and those who received the leftover rice. The guests were also subjected t the Grim Reaper, Dr. Huxford, who placed the unlucky guests in a 'graveyard.' Other entertainment included readings of facts about worl hunger, a dramatic rendition of a piece called, "Two Women," and live music provided to begin and end the program.

Death Walks!
Dr. Huxford, the Grime Reaper during the banquet conducting unlucky guests to the graveyard, talks with CPS members as she picks her next victim.

O Baby! O Baby!
Dr. Quisenberry came to the banquet with his partner and their adopted child. He was talking with President Dennis when this picture was shot.

"Please, sir, I want some more." Guests of the lowest group, including Jennifer Repking, were only allowed the leftover rice and dirty water.

an overnight agony : sasi's annual sleep-out

During Hunger and Homelessness week several people participated in the Students Against Social Injustice's Sleep-Out to raise awareness of the plight of the homeless. Participants wrote facts and messages about hunger and homelessness on the sidewalks with chalk, wrote letters to their Representatives and Senators, and then settled down for a cold night sleeping on the quad. Wrapped in sleeping bags, they spent the cold, windy night asleep until about 5 a.m. when they woke up and went back to their homes to get ready for the upcoming school day.

Homeless?
Students participate in SASI's Sleep-Out much better equipped than the actual homeless, but still make their point about the hardships of poverty.

an honor: honor societies at mckendree

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega, Theatre Honor Society, is intended for students interested in theater and drama productions. Under supervision of Michelle Magnussen, Alpha Psi Omega helps with production of the fall and spring plays, improv nights, and other various theatrical productions that are held on campus.

Members participated in the fall play "Charley's Aunt" and the spring play "The Glass Menagerie." Senior members, Adam Kee and Michelle Ashley starred in their senior presentations of "Give 'Em Hell Harry" and "The Vagina Monologues" respectively.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta, History Honor Society, promotes the study of history through the encouragement of research, good teaching, publication, and the exchange of learning and ideas among historians. Dr. Halfond is the faculty advisor of Phi Alpha Theta.

Members of Phi Alpha Theta participated in watching Luther, a historical movie, and holding their annual picnic at Horner Park in Lebanon. They had also planned a trip to historical sites in New Orleans, unfortunately their plans fell through.

Lambda Pi Eta

Lambda Pi Eta is the only honor society recognized by the National Communications Association (NCA). According to the organization's advisor, Dr. William Haskins, it is a "prestigious honor society and it currently has over 200 chapters." Lambda Pi Eta officially started in 1994 making it a rather new honor society.

When asked what Lambda Pi Eta means to her, Whitney Pankey, a new member to the society, states, "Even though I'm a new member I'm excited about having the opportunity to be a part of such an organizaion. It's also a really good resume builder."

Sigma Tau Delta

Sigma Tau Delta, the International English Honor Society, was started at McKendree College in May of 1990. The current advisor, Dr. Ronald Black, started the society. Members are juniors and seniors who have declared an English major, maintain a "B" average, and have completed at least 20 hours in English courses.

Besides providing recognition for the individual's high academic achievements, Sigma Tau Delta provides several other privileges. Members have several scholarship opportunities available, they receive a society newsletter in which members have a chance to publish their own material, and they may obtain possible internships through the society.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu is the International Honor Society in social science. Members of Pi Gamma Mu are juniors and seniors that have declared Social Science as their major. These members must obtain at least a "B" grade average and have completed 20 semester hours in social science courses.

Privileges of being in Pi Gamma Mu include various scholarship opportunities, publications, service project opportunities, and the recognition for an individual's scholastic achievements.

Psychology Club

Psychology Club is open to Psychology majors and minors. The club meets once a month. During their meetings they watch movies, organize speakers, and engage in different community service projects. Psychology Club is involved in activities both on-campus and off-campus. This club sets up a table at the Organizational Fair for NSO, holds Halloween parties and Valentine's Day parties at Lebanon Terrace, offers peer academic advising, and numerous other activities throughout the year.

Sigma Beta Delta

Sigma Beta Delta is an honor society for students pursuing a bachelor's or master's degree in business, management, or administration. Students must have a grade point average in the top 10 percent of their class to be qualified for induction. Only juniors and seniors are eligible to join this prestigious honors society.

McKendree College is credited as one of the seven founding chapters of Sigma Beta Delta in 1994. The creation of Sigma Beta Delta follows a 200-year tradition of honoring scholastic achievement in higher education.

an article, essay, or story: the review and the montage

Two of the student-run publications on campus are the biweekly Review and annual Montage. The Review is a student-run newspaper that, unfortunately, has been plagued by a lack of writers. The editors of the Review are Emily Tuttle and Elizabeth Hise. The Montage is the student literary magazine. Its staff meets only for a few weeks after submissions to the magazine have been made by McKendree students. The editors, Erin Johnson and Chastity Cueto this year, are joined by volunteer "readers" who help the editors evaluate anonymous works to decide which will be published. Anyone can submit stories, essays, poems, or artwork to be published. Awards are given to the best pieces in the non-fiction, poetry, fiction, and art categories.

One Lucky Guy . . .

Reporters at Work
Both editors came down to report on the SGA Town Meeting. They did not have anyone else they could assign apparently as they have the same problem as the yearbook and most other groups on campus that coincidently was a major subject at this event: No Students Willing to Participate!

Reading, reading, reading. What else did you expect?!

Emily and Elizabeth told me they were the whole staff of the Review, so here's the Review staff picture.

an august clique:

the staff of the mckendrean

The Yearbook staff was plagued with problems this year, not the least of which included not being able to use the yearbook office for most of the fall semester while a new sewer pipeline was being installed through the middle of the room! They worked through all the difficulties and so were able to publish a a great yearbook. The staff consisted of Sami Harriss, Minerva Grama, Karen Blomberg, Joshua Hollingsead (editor), and Kelly Wissehr (advisor). Laxman Pandey also worked on staff for the fall semester.

an exceptional team: mckendree football

Talent, experience, veteran leadership, depth, power, and speed are qualities that best describe the McKendree Football Team. The Bearcats ended the 2003 season by making it to the first round of the NAIA playoffs. This year was the third consecutive year McKendree earned a place in the playoffs. It was also their fourth appearance in the playoffs in the last five years. McKendree, No. 14 in the final NAIA regular-season poll, ended its year with an 8-3 record.

an admirable team: mckendree men's soccer

As he enters his 15th season at McKendree College, head coach Tim Strange has brought a level of consistency to the McKendree College soccer programs. Strange is the program's all-time wins leader in coaching victories with 103. In his season outlook he says that "despite the graduation and loss of Francisco Mosca the school's career scoring leader, the McKendree men's soccer team is counting on some familiar faces to lead them in 2003. Frierdich, along with senior Michael Dermen, are two of the fastest Bearcats on the field and will be looked at to add goals from their forward position." Besides the team's old faces, also counted on will be three newcomers: Nathan Doherty, Nicholas Mosca and Jay Stremlau.

On November 7 the McKendree College men's soccer season came to a close with a 1-0 loss at Missouri Baptist University in the semifinal round of the American Midwest Conference Play-In Tournament. The contest — which was postponed a day because of wet field conditions — was held at the St. Louis Soccer Park. McKendree ends its season with an overall record of 6-13-1.

Group Hug
Besides success and determination, solidarity seems to be also an important factor in defining the McKendree soccer team.

Keep a Tight Grip! Here McKendree wrestler Chad Willard has a hold on his opponent.

Watch That Foot! McKendree student, Tarell Miller grapples with his adversary.

This was the first year of McKendree's 19th collegiate sport sponsored by the college, wrestling. The wrestling team had a very good first year with eight wrestlers eligible to go to the NAIA National round. There the Bearcats placed 15th, scoring 30 points in the two-day event. Senior Danny Williams placed sixth in the 174-pound weight class, while freshman Josh Blackburn was eighth at 149 pounds. By earning a sixth-place finish, Williams earned NAIA honorable mention All-America honors. The first year of the Bearcat's Wrestling went extremely well, and the college as a whole is looking forward to a bright future for its new team.

"I don't feel so good." Wrestler Clay Weier has a bleary look in his eyes as he holds his challenger.

cheerleading at mck

The cheerleaders are a major spirit group on campus open to both men and women. Currently the squad is an all-girl group with thirteen members. They are expected to cheer at all home football and basketball games. They also travel occasionally with the teams to major games, such as the playoffs or national tournaments. They compete nationally in Daytona Beach in April. This year's squad consists of Whitney Pankey (Co-Captain), Kayla Frank (Co-Captain), Camille Rennegarbe(Co-Captain), Amy Klamberg, Stephanie Windham, Barbie Klaus, Nikki Morland, Lindsay Weathers, Amanda Klaus, Catherine Hamrick, Julianne Harris, Heather Cathcart, and Erica Windham. The squad has a triumvirate of power with Whitney, Camilla, and Kayla sharing the captaincy. The cheerleaders are coached by Rosalie Wand.

The men and women's bowling teams competed in eleven events this year. They endured a coaching change in mid-season, as Phil Vida left and Gary White returned. The women's team finished in the top five in six tournaments, based on the strength of strong veteran bowlers and a number of new girls to provide them with depth and talent. The men's team also gained help from incoming freshman this year to support their returning bowlers as they work towards becoming a national competitor.

The women's team consists of Amanda Blocker, Renee Boelloeni, Michelle Bryant, Melissa Doyens, Brook Enyart, Lindsay Foster, Tammara Gage, Krystal Havelka, Sarah Hedman, Amber Henn, Melanie Mayes, Kimberly McGriff, Ashley Reynolds, Erica Seibel, Christine Szoke, Heidi Tangman, and Ashley Vallero. The men's team consists of D.J. Cummins, Bobby Cummins, Tim Fraher, Travis Hare, Nick Jones, Steve Kannewurf, Tom Mahan, Lee McCarthy, Tyler Sondag, and Jake Thomas.

"One of the best things about being a member of a team at the college level is that it helps us become better bowlers and future competitors for a national title," said Tom Mahan.

The Men's Golf schedule was full with a total of seven invitational meets. The men started their season at the Missouri Baptist University Invitational in Madison, IL. McKendree tied for sixth place of eight teams. The Bearcats tallied a team score of 646 and finished in a tie with Evangel University. Sophomore, Phil Schildknecht led McKendree with a two-day score of 154.

The next invitational at Quincy, IL hosted by Culver-Stockton College was a close finish for McKendree. The Bearcats posted a 36-hole score of 637 to finish just 19 strokes behind the host school and tournament champion. McKendree was third after the first round, but stumbled to 7th over the final 18 holes.

The McKendree College golf team closed its 2004 spring season with a 6th place finish at the NAIA Region V Tournament held in Camdenton, MO. The Bearcats finished the 72-hole event with a team score of 968, only 59 strokes behind the region champion, Missouri Baptist University.

This is Coach Underwood's last year coaching the men's golf team.

an eagle: mckendree golf teams

The Women's Golf schedule for Spring 2004 did not have as many meets as previous years. The McKendree Invitational at Shiloh, IL was their first game of the year. Unfortunately McKendree came in 7th of 7. The Bearcats posted a two-day team score of 768, while Rend Lake College took the tournament title by shooting 642 for 36 holes.

Then the Bearcats were off to the Lindenwood University Invitational in St. Peters, MO. There they registered a third-place finish with a team score of 804. Junior, Jami Potthoff led the way for the Bearcats with a 36-hole score of 191.

The McKendree College Women's Golf Team completed its season with a 10th place finish at the Millikin University Big Blue Invitational in Forsyth, IL. McKendree posted a low score of 770, the lowest team score for the Bearcats in any round over the past two seasons.

This is the last year that Coach Underwood will be coaching the women's golf team.

men's and women's tennis

McKendree's men's and women's tennis teams did all right this year. There are nine players on the women's team and eight on the men's. The men have Bill Ruscik for a head coach, while the women are coached by Maureen Moore.

Both teams play a Fall and Spring season, with the Spring longer and ending with the NAIA regional tournament. The men earned a 1-1 W-L record for the Fall 2003 and did very well in the Spring 2004 with a 7-4 record.

The women were scheduled for three games and three tournaments in the Fall, but there were no available reports of the outcomes. The team did seem to do pretty well in the Spring 2004 season, though, ending with a 7-6 record.

an estimable team: mckendree women's soccer

Timeout?
For a few seconds, Jennifer Caveny and Keri Ousley seem puzzled while waiting for Amanda Kirksey to fight off the opponent.

Head coach, Tim Strange made the following comment in the 2003 preview: "With its top three all-time goal scorers returning and one of the top recruiting classes in school history, the McKendree women's soccer team is looking forward to a highly successful and long 2003 campaign." He also said that, "leading the way in one of the most potent scoring attacks in the NAIA is the duo of Keri Ousley and Kasey Stogsdill. Ousley, the school's all-time leader in goals scored and Stogsdill, second on the school's all-time goal list, combined for 32 goals last season."

The McKendree College women's soccer season ended their successful season at the NAIA National Tournament on the 20th of November. The Bearcats were defeated by Azusa Pacific University (California) with a 4-0 loss, in the second round of the NAIA Women's Soccer National Championship in Santa Barbara, California. McKendree ends its season with an overall record of 12-7-3.

Katie Beck manages to fight her way to the ball.

"I'll Show You I'm Faster!"
Even though they both seem very determined, let's hope that Kasey Stogsdill will be the first one to kick the ball.

"Quick! Quick! Who Do I Pass This To?"
A very concentrated, Jennifer Caveny looks for a teammate to pass the ball.

an endurance test: mckendree cross country

The 2003 Men's Cross Country Team had a good season this year finishing 5th in Regionals. The roster included: Joel Maiyo, Alex Wright, Blake Marcum, Michael Derby, Ryan Dillinger, Jesse Gibbs, and Andrew Smith.

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained," was how Andrew Smith described competition in Cross Country. This statement makes sense for these disciplined runners who compete in 8000 meter races. Head Coach Gary White described their season as a "good year to develop the young runners and allow them to gain experience running at the college level." He also believes that the young team has hopes of being a national contender in the coming seasons.

Speed, Talent, and Determination
For McKendree's athletes doesn't matter if it's cold and windy, they get up there and prove their talents.

The 2003 Women's Cross Country Team came to a close in November finishing 7th in Regionals. Head Coach Gary White described the team as a young team in a building season. The Women's roster included: Nessa Paul, Kristen Weltzin, Emily Kuykendall, Lacey Frerking, Emily Whitehead, and Lisa Moore. All six runners are planning on returning in the 2004 season.

Throughout the season, the runners competed in 5000 meter races, approximately 3.2 miles. To stay competitive in these long races, the runners conditioned and practiced hard. But it paid off in the end, especially for Nessa Paul, a freshman. Paul is the team's best runner, finishing 18th in Nationals which made her All-American.

Young and Talented Runner
In giving his opinion on the 2003 Cross Country outlook, head coach Gary White says about freshman Alex Wright, from England, that he is "very talented and is expected to make a big contribution to the team."

Top Female Runner
According to the head coach, on the women's side, freshman Nessa Paul from St. Lucia, stands out as the prominent runner for the team.

Slowly But Surely
Even though he is a few steps back, Ryan Dillinger does his best to catch up.

Ready, Set, Go!
McKendree runners and their rivals warm up before they start the competition, while head coach Gary White makes sure all the athletes are present.

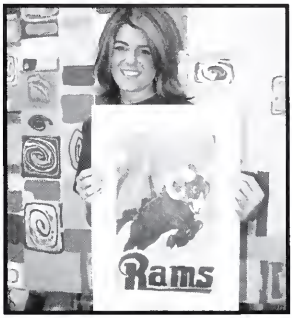
Juniors

Class of 2005

Juniors will soon be walking on the front lawn during their own commencement ceremony.

Students were encouraged to get their annual flu shot - perhaps to ensure that no one missed classes due to the flu!



Junior, Mary-Katherine Kitzmiller, an art major, was a finalist in the competition held to "capture the magic of Rams' football." Kitzmiller submitted an entry in the design competition for the cover of the 2003 media guide.

Thank you to all the friends and family members, as well as our loyal businesses, who purchased an ad for the 2004 McKendrean. Since the selling price of the yearbook does not cover all of the production and printing costs, the yearbook staff depend on the generous support we received. We hope you enjoy these pages for years to come!

Sincerely,
Kelly H. Wisschr '93

an acknowledgement.

recognizing all who helped make this yearbook possible

With a title like that you'd think I was planning on thanking everyone in the universe, starting with my parents. While there are reasons I probably should, I won't . . . at least not right here. I do want to thank everyone who helped in any way, shape, or form with this yearbook. I did not know what I was agreeing to when I took the position of editor, and many on campus helped the yearbook staff and I complete this undertaking. Now on to an itemized list:

The first person I want to thank specifically is Ms. Kelly Wissehr, Director of Alumni Relations. When there were no other takers for the position, she broke tradition and became a non-faculty sponsor of the yearbook. She in fact has been the driving force behind this yearbook and the one that preceded it. She put up with me and the rest of the staff and worked at least as much as I did on this book, and probably, looking back now, a lot more. Without Kelly, the McKendrean might have stayed on permanent hiatus. We all owe her a debt for making this book possible.

The next people I must say thank you are Mr. Kim Lobring, Communications Director at McKendree, who generously allowed us to use the pictures he shot around campus, and Mr. Scott Cummings, Sports Information Director, who allowed us to borrow pictures and provided us with information.

Thanks should also go to Mr. Gabriel Shapiro for having his class do fact-finding assignments for the yearbook. Individual students who contributed include Lori Autenrieb, Tammara Gage, Barbie Klaus, Jodi Pfefforkorn and Naureen Stack.

All the faculty and staff who gave the yearbook pictures, copy, or any other help and put up with us bothering you, we are truly thankful to you as well.

In addition, thanks to the writers of Bearchat, the Review, and the McKendree website all of which we used occasionally as source material.

Last but not least, thanks to everyone who worked on the staff, especially Minerva Grama and Sami Harriss who were with us to the very end.

Finally, (I know I already used 'last,' but this is the end of the list. I am telling the truth. Really.) a loud "thank you" to all students, faculty, and staff on campus who made this such a great year.

Is there anyone I left off this list? I think it is pretty inclusive. Hmm . . . oh, yes. I'd like to thank the all animals on campus, especially the squirrels who entertained me with their antics and allowed me to take pictures of them. Yes, thanks to all the animals . . . except for those birds who decided that anytime between midnight and five a.m. is a goodtime to start singing outside my open dorm window. To them I'd just like to say it is a good thing for you that McKendree doesn't allow firearms on campus, otherwise. . . .

editor's note for the 2004 mckendrean

Exhaustion is the word. A tip of advice to everyone: Don't take nineteen credit hours worth of classes, a part-time job, membership in three or four active groups of campus, and agree to be editor of the yearbook at the same time. Just don't. Trust me.

Let's see, I have already thanked everyone on the previous page, so now what? I guess I could explain this year's theme for those who don't get it. This year's theme was really simple. McKendrean, the name of McKendree's yearbook, can be divided into 'McKendre' and 'an.' The yearbook staff took advantage of this to create appositives that would work with 'an' to describe McKendree, such as McKendree, an editor's exhaustion. That was the basic idea behind the theme which was elaborated a bit with font types.

Other things readers might want to know about are my grumbles. (Okay, I admit you really don't, but then nobody is forcing you to read this page.) My biggest gripe was getting students to help with the yearbook. Student participation on campus at anything other than parties was contemptible. I know people have other things to do like go get drunk and watch someone else live a staged life on Survivor, Bachelor, or American Idol, but would it kill anyone to spend a couple of hours doing something constructive, like working on a yearbook to help them remember their college years beyond that alcoholic fog?

Another grumble: the yearbook office and computers. The yearbook staff was not able to use the yearbook office for most of the Fall semester and then had to wait a couple months after that for our computers to be fixed. That could make anybody late for deadlines, but did we give up? No (maybe we did despair a little, though, along with being exasperated most of the time, but we never did give up). We worked and worked and worked some more. That's why you have this great yearbook in your hands (unless you have it set on the table instead, but it is still a great book).

If you notice any little things you want to complain about, we ask you to come and spend a couple hours a week for two semesters helping put the yearbook together next year. Then we will dutifully note your complaint, but until then deal with it.

Okay, what else is there to say? I actually enjoyed being editor this year (though sometimes I did not think so). It provides one with a great sense of achievement to create anything as complex and creative as a yearbook, and I had good people working with me on it. Anything else? No. Then I'll end with a quote I kept in mind to retain my sanity this year, from a great philosopher of the 20th Century, Bugs Bunny, "Don't take life too seriously, you'll never get out of it alive!"

colophon

The 2003-2004 McKendrean, Volume 87, was printed by Jostens at its printing plant in Topeka, Kansas. Pressrun was 200 copies. The charcoal cover was designed by the yearbook staff featuring black and silver foil. The theme "McKendree an . . ." was developed by the yearbook staff to show all the things McKendree is to students, faculty, and staff. The 152 page book was printed on trim size 8, which uses 8.5x11 sheets of paper. Layouts and copy were done on PCs using PageMaker 6.5/7.0 and the Josten Year Tech software, including Page Wizard templates. Copy was done in Times New Roman, Goodname, and Stylebrand fonts. Student portraits were taken by Jim Radin from Florissant, Missouri. Kelly Wissehr, Director of Alumni Affairs, served as yearbook advisor. Yearbook staff members included Joshua Hollingsead, Editor, Samantha Harriss, Minerva Grama, Karen Blomberg, and Laxman Pandey. Josten's representative was Ed Sudgen.
